Supervision Conference 2018

Working with images in supervision

This experiential workshop is for those who are interested in the potential of image making as an additional way of reflecting on the therapeutic process. No previous experience of art is needed, just a willingness to have a go. We will explore the possible layers of meaning that images can hold and how the art materials can be used to consider the experiences of our work.

Ursula Frank lives and works in Wales. She has been an art psychotherapist for 24 years and a supervisor of arts therapists, counsellors and other professionals for 10 years. She works in private practice, does sessional work for organisations and runs an arts-in-health project.
